DETAILED ACTION

In view of applicant's election of Species I: Figure 1, on December 28, 2005, claims 1, 2, and 4 have been examined, and claim 3 has been withdrawn as non-elected invention.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the saddle weld as claimed in claim 1 must be shown and identified in the drawings or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 3635

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 5, line 9, "present" should be - - prevent - -.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,261,647 to Venegas, Jr. et al.

Claims 1 and 2:

illustrated in Figure 1). The vertical and horizontal members are attached by way of removable fastener (38, Figure 2 and column 3, lines 4-6).

Venegas, Jr. et al. does not specify that the horizontal and vertical rails are connected with a saddle weld. However, applicant states in section VIII-A of the appeal brief received April 29, 2004 that a typical saddle weld is shown in Figure 3. A careful study of applicant's Figure 3 shows a screw (304) threaded through a first metal sleeve such that the threaded portion is parallel to a second metal sleeve and has a nut (302) welded thereto. This same arrangement is illustrated in Figure 5 of Venegas Jr. et al., who shows a screw (38) threaded through a first metal sleeve (22) such that the threaded portion is parallel to a second metal sleeve (50) and has a nut (39) welded thereto.

Claim 4:

In an alternate embodiment, Venegas et al. also teaches attachment of the vertical side members and horizontal member using a removable screw fastener (column 3, lines 59-60).
